

Speak to us of Children

You may give them your love but not your thoughts, for they have their own thoughts. You may house their bodies, but not their souls, for their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.

The Prophet

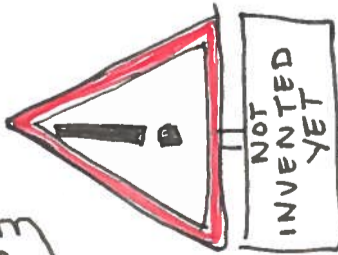

You may strive to be like them but seek not to make them like you. You are the bows from which your children as living arrows are sent forth. See the mark upon the path of the infinite... may your arrows go swift and far...

(Kahlil Gibran 1923)
